

On-Campus PSEO Courses

*With instructor approval

A = Offered Alternate Years

E = Offered Every Year

AD-1010-2-E Foundations of Addictions Counseling (Also CO-1010)

Course examines the roots of addictions, including substance abuse and addictions to gambling, sex, overeating, and other behaviors. Major approaches to counseling people with addictions will be considered. Attention will be paid to issues of co-existing conditions and disorders and how they complicate the healing process.

AD-2000-3-A Theories of Chemical Dependency***

Course examines the causes, social implications, and prevention of chemical dependency. Different theories which focus on particular populations and demographic groups will be considered.

AD-2001-2-A Chemical Dependency Counseling***

Course examines the effects of chemical use and presents effective strategies for chemical dependency counseling.

BUS-1002-3-E Introduction to Business

Introduction to the fundamentals of business including business organization, business environment, management, marketing, finance, mission, business ethics, and social responsibility.

BUS-1004-3-A Foundations of Accounting

Basic accounting course emphasizes double entry bookkeeping. By building practical accounting skills and developing an understanding of concepts, students will be prepared for success in a small office or business.

BUS-2012-3-A Introduction to Economics

Covers the basics of both micro and macroeconomics: circular flow model, demand and supply, various market structures, money, Federal Reserve, income expenditure model, classical economics, economic policies, international trade, and political factors in economic policy.

BUS-2013-3-A Marketing

This course studies the business function of Marketing. Students will learn how marketers deliver value in satisfying customer needs and wants, determine which target markets the organization can best serve, and decide upon appropriate products, services, and programs to serve these markets. Topics include branding and product development, pricing strategies, marketing research, promotion, supply chain management and service marketing.

BUS 2014-3-A Organizational Leadership

This course presents a survey of leadership theories and competencies for the private and nonprofit sectors. Students will explore the different leadership theories, develop their own personal leadership style, learn about the difficulties that come from being a leader, prepare both strategic, and organizational plans, and learn methods of motivating others to achieve those plans.

COM-2007-3-E Intercultural Communications

The Intercultural Communications course introduces students to the theory of communication and the personal, interpersonal and cultural factors that affect the communication process. Particular emphasis will be placed on developing the knowledge, skills and attitudes needed to communicate effectively across cultures. Interpersonal and group communication processes will be addressed.

CO-2001-3-E Introduction to Counseling

Course introduces basic counseling skills. Primarily focuses on skill development with some class time devoted to counseling theory. Includes learning and practicing counseling skills in the classroom setting. Christian perspectives of counseling presented in order for students to integrate newly acquired skills into a variety of contexts.

CO-2007-2-A Adolescent Psychology***

Provides a study of family and adolescent development. Surveys basic approaches to counseling adolescents, including family therapy. Topics include: substance abuse, eating disorders, running away, suicide, adjustment problems, self-esteem, peer pressure, pregnancy, and spiritual issues.

CUL-2007-3-E Intercultural Communications

The Intercultural Communications course introduces students to the theory of communication and the personal, interpersonal and cultural factors that affect the communication process. Particular emphasis will be placed on developing the knowledge, skills and attitudes needed to communicate effectively across cultures. Interpersonal and group communication processes will be addressed.

ENG-1000-3-E College Writing I

Emphasis on improving skills and effectiveness in written communication through critical reading of diverse literary genres and extensive writing. Course deals with developing authorial voice and adapting that voice to academic audiences.

ENG-1001-3-E College Writing II

Continued emphasis on composition with concentration on critical and creative thinking. Includes use of sources, research methods, and preparation of college-level research papers.

ENG-2001-3-E Interpretation of Biblical Literature

Introduction to the principles of biblical interpretation in order to better understand the Bible. Emphasis placed on the application of these principles.

HI-2003-3-E World History

A study of the ancient Middle Eastern, Mediterranean, and European roots of modern Western civilization through the Renaissance/Reformation era.

HI-2011-3-A Historical Geography

This course will study the historical geography of the biblical world with an emphasis on the land of Israel. We will examine biblical history in conjunction with geography and archaeological finds associated with the biblical events. Attention will also be given to the significance of Israel's location within the biblical world.

HUM-2007-3-E Worldviews

This worldviews course examines various major worldviews that have influenced modern society – considering questions about the nature of reality, the nature and significance of human kind, the basis for knowledge and ethics, and life commitments. Students will explore current worldviews in American or global society and will seek to articulate their own current worldview understanding.

MTH-1003-3-E Personal Finance and Applied Math

The purpose of this class is the study of business and consumer financial matters, as well as the mathematic components that are applied in business and personal finance. Topics include financial planning, preparing budgets, managing assets, use of debt, charitable giving, developing investment portfolios, insurance planning, retirement planning, consumer credit, and applied math.

MU-1005/2005-1-E Private Music Lessons

One-half hour of instruction per week. Open to all qualified students with consent of the instructor. Daily practice required. Refer to financial information for fee. Instructor's signature required.

PE-2000-1-E Fitness for Life

This course is designed to allow each student an opportunity to increase their physical fitness and exercise thus enabling them to develop patterns of lifelong fitness.

PS-1001-4-E Introduction to Psychology

Introduction to the methods and major theoretical approaches of modern psychology. Students develop the ability to critically evaluate and apply the findings of psychology to their lives and Christian ministry.

PS-2004-3-A Lifespan Developmental Psychology

Survey of human development and change throughout the life span. Covers developmental theories and research. Concept application emphasized.

PS-2006-3-E Human Sexuality***

Course offers information in the areas of anatomy, cultural and historical factors that affect present views of sexuality, sexual dysfunction, sexual behavior, and current issues and research in human sexuality. Students explore and develop their own theology of human sexuality.

PS-2007-2-A Adolescent Psychology***

Provides a study of family and adolescent development. Surveys basic approaches to counseling adolescents, including family therapy. Topics include: substance abuse, eating disorders, running away, suicide, adjustment problems, self-esteem, peer pressure, pregnancy, and spiritual issues.

SCI-2003-4-A Human Anatomy & Physiology

This course is designed to study the 12 systems of the body and how God formed these systems to allow for human thought and movement. This lab course enables students to take an inside look at how many of these systems and body parts function.

SM-2000-3-A Introduction to Sports Management

This course will lay the foundation for all the Sports Management program. It will be a basic overview of the proper use of management skills within amateur and corporate sports.

SM-2002-2-A Sports Psychology

This course is designed to show that psychological factors play a huge role in amateur and professional sports. It will give us a clear understanding of the ways people use psychology to compete at the highest level possible.